

fringe

This collection looks towards the application of ornamental textile trimmings through a contemporary re-interpretation of British outerwear. Originally, fringe was used as a detail to prevent the unraveling of fabrics when hemming was not, but we are looking towards using it to begin to absorb our garments. As the line progresses, the fringe application becomes more experimental, and more invasive, to the point where elements of the jacket are lost in a vibrant mess of movement. The collection demonstrates the boisterous opportunities apparent in re-imagining the application of traditional finishing techniques.

Atelier Versace

Richard Avedon

A.W.A.K.E.

Alexis Waldeck

Emilio Pucci

Burberry

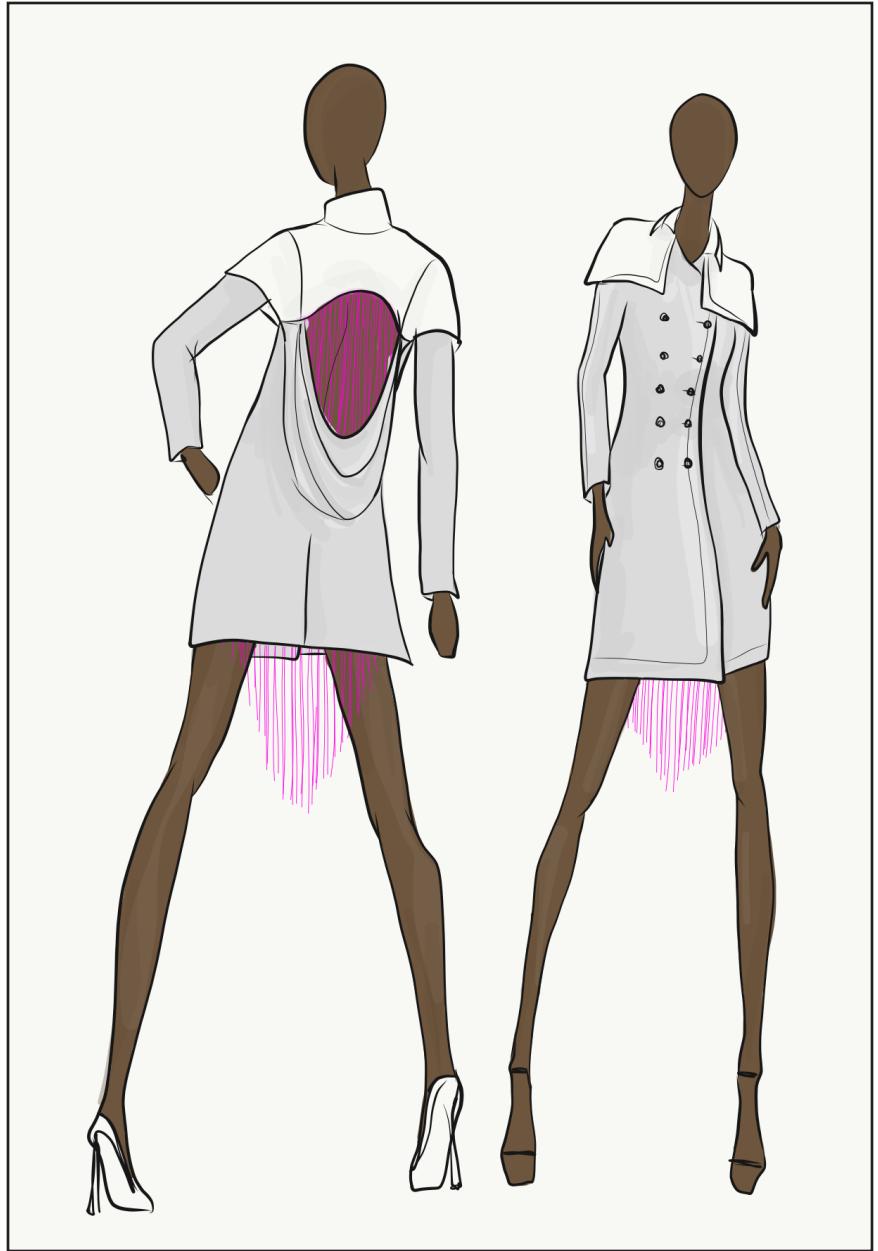

Hanna

Using the storm flap as a tool to reveal fringe application.

Materials:
Wool
Fringe

Concealing the fringe within the jacket, and revealing through seams.

Materials:

Wool

Fringe

Concealing the application of fringe within pleated details.

Materials:
Wool
Fringe

Treating the fringe like an epaulette.

Materials:
Wool
Fringe

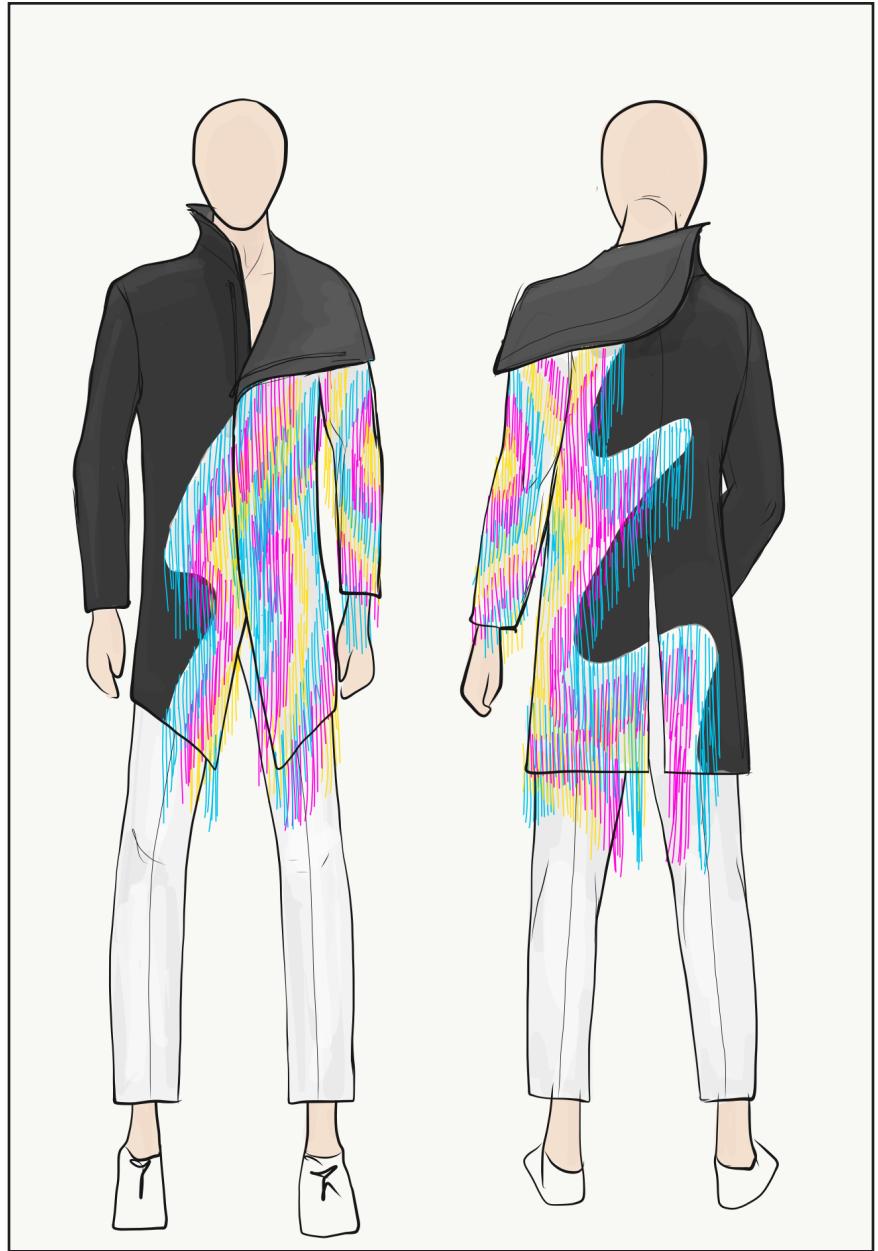

Applying fringe to the inner and outerseams of the jacket.

Materials:
Wool
Fringe

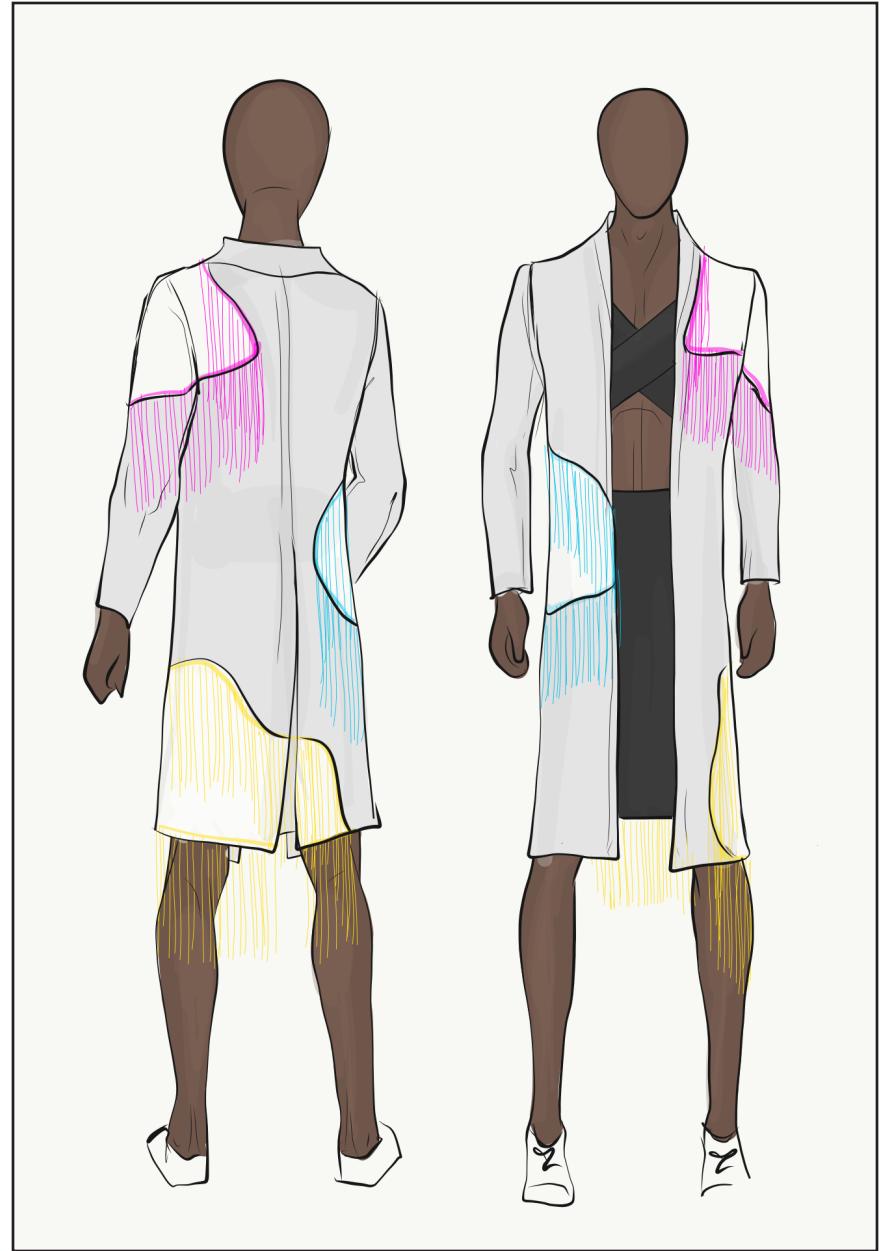

Color-blocking through fabric and fringe.

Materials:
Wool
Fringe

Considering quilting techniques and emphasis on seams.

Materials:
Wool
Fringe

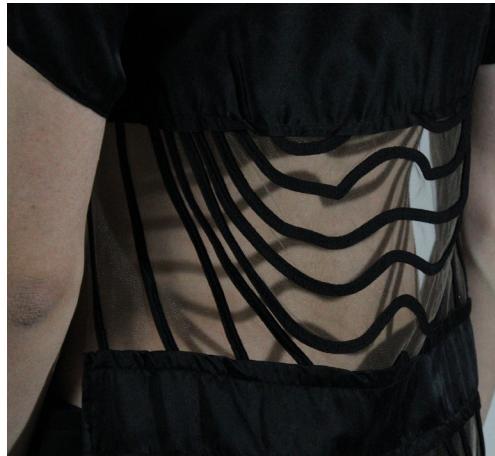

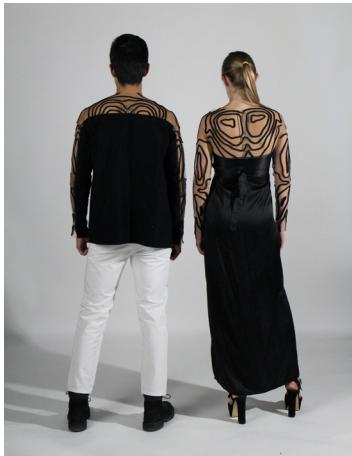

Fringe consuming entire jacket element.

Materials:
Wool
Fringe

We both have similar designing and sewing experience in the past, and feel comfortable making clothing from scratch. We worked together on the line "SURFACE" a couple years back for Lunar Gala Ferox.

Fabric	$176	16 Yards of White Wool Tweed
	$176	16 Yards of Grey Wool Tweed
	$176	16 Yards of Black Wool Tweed
Fringe	$14	850 Yards of Cyan Warp Thread
	$14	850 Yards of Magenta Warp Thread
	$14	850 Yards of Yellow Warp Thread
Miscellaneous	$30	Miscellaneous Fasteners
	$20	Miscellaneous Thread
Estimated Total	$620

** Assumed each outfit requires 4 yards of fabric.

**All prices based on Mood fabrics due to their higher cost.

thank you